

UNDERSTANDING HUMAN SOCIETY AND CULTURE THROUGH QUALITY TEACHING-LEARNING AND RESEARCH

In the Faculty of Humanities, students are encouraged to understand and explain human experiences in its totality. Can you imagine the diversity and complexity of people's experiences in our local and global worlds today, and how poor understanding of these experiences can lead to disastrous consequences? When you become part of the Faculty of Humanities at the North-West University, you will join a group of bold students and staff who study and work towards solutions for important issues. The Faculty of Humanities is your home!

NWU - AN INTERNATIONALLY RENOWNED UNIVERSITY

The NWU proudly represents the African continent on the global stage as one of the largest and most sought-after universities in the world. Well known for its excellence in teaching-learning and research, the University boasts a student population that is representative of 66 different nationalities. The latter bears testament to the NWU's global competitive advantage.

Through strategic international collaboration with experts and other institutions of higher learning, the NWU further ensures a global footprint of distinction and quality. Consequently, the NWU takes great pride in the worth of its comprehensive undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, as well as its proven research track record.

ON GOOD AUTHORITY

A message from the executive dean, Prof Pamela Maseko

The Faculty of Humanities is committed to provide high-quality education where students are nurtured in critical understanding and interpreting of human experience. Our approach to teaching and learning, research and innovation, and engagement with the community is guided by the core strategic values of the University: academic excellence and social justice. The faculty's programmes are designed to provide our students with critical intellectual thinking, an engaged ethical learning experience, and a rootedness in Africa for global participation and appreciation and respect for diversity. The faculty offers a unique, research-led experience across a broad range of undergraduate, postgraduate and research programmes.

Our faculty has a presence in all three delivery sites, namely at the Mafikeng, Potchefstroom and Vaal Triangle campuses. Students, across the three campuses, can be assured of outstanding education from our diverse staff who are leaders in their fields, and who have research collaborations with other researchers in Africa and the rest of the world.
