CALENDAR 2025

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES POSTGRADUATE All universities in South Africa are obligated by law to take part in a National Project driven by the external regulatory bodies (Department of Higher Education and Training (DHET), the Council on Higher Education (CHE) and the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA)), to align all qualifications with the Higher Education Qualifications Sub-Framework (HEQSF). It follows that the NWU is continuously in the process of aligning our qualifications and programme offerings with the requirements of the HEQSF.

Students are advised to contact the relevant faculty to ensure that they register for the correct qualification, programme and/or curriculum, or to report any errors and/or omissions noticed. It is the duty of the student to ascertain that he/she is registering for the correct qualification, programme and/or curriculum. The University will not be held liable for any damages students may suffer as result of neglecting this responsibility.

Address all correspondence to:

The Registrar North-West University Private Bag X1290 Potchefstroom 2520

Tel: (018) 299-1111/2222 Fax: (018) 299-4910 Internet: http://www.nwu.ac.za

PLEASE MENTION YOUR UNIVERSITY NUMBER IN ALL CORRESPONDENCE.

The General Academic Rules of the University, to which all students have to subject themselves and which apply to all the qualifications offered by the University, appear in a separate publication and are available on the web page at: http://www.nwu.ac.za/yearbooks.

Please note: Although the information in this Calendar has been compiled with the utmost care and accuracy, the Council and the Senate of the University accept no responsibility whatsoever for errors that may occur. Before students finally decide on the selection of modules, they must consult the class timetable. If a clash occurs in the planned selection of a student, the relevant module combination is not permitted.

HUM.1 FACULTY RULES AND GOVERNANCE

HUM.1.1 AUTHORITY OF THE A-RULES

The Faculty of Humanities operates in accordance with the General Academic Rules (A-Rules) of North-West University (NWU), which govern all academic activities, qualifications, and student conduct. These rules are established by the NWU Council and Senate, and all faculty-specific regulations outlined in this yearbook must adhere to the A-Rules.

This yearbook outlines the faculty-specific rules and procedures that students are expected to follow to successfully complete their postgraduate qualifications, including Honours, Master's, and Doctoral degrees. Students must ensure they comply with both the A-Rules and the faculty rules to maintain academic progression and meet the requirements for graduation.

The NWU A-Rules are accessible on the university's website for further reference.

HUM.1.2 STRUCTURE OF QUALIFICATIONS

The postgraduate qualifications offered by the Faculty of Humanities adhere to the NWU A-Rules, specifically A-Rule 1.2, A-Rule 3.1 (Honours degrees and Postgraduate diplomas), A-Rule 4.2 (Master's degrees), and A-Rule 5.2 (Doctoral degrees). These qualifications align with NWU's academic standards, ensuring that students accumulate the required credits and complete their studies within the designated timeframe.

Faculty-Specific Rule:

- The Faculty may apply an additional 20% credit allocation beyond the minimum required credits for certain programmes, subject to Senate approval (A-Rule 1.2.4).
- In the Postgraduate Diploma in Population and Policy Analysis (1EJ D01), students must complete the HPPA523 research module, which accounts for 18 credits (A-Rule 3.1.2).

HUM.1.3 OFFICE BEARERS, SCHOOLS AND RESEARCH ENTITIES

The following office bearers manage the academic, research, and community engagement functions of the Faculty of Humanities:

HUM.1.3.1 Faculty Management

HUM.1.4 RESEARCH ENTITIES

In the Faculty of Humanities, training for Postgraduate Diplomas and Honours degrees is conducted within the context of schools and their subject groups. Master's and Doctoral studies, however, are primarily accommodated within the research entities of the Faculty. Each entity is led by Research Unit Directors, Focus Area Directors, or Niche Area Leaders, supported by School Directors, Deputy Directors, and faculty staff, fostering an integrated research and academic environment.

These research entities serve as frameworks for postgraduate students, aligning their research activities with the broader academic and research goals of the Faculty. In some instances, postgraduate research may extend beyond specific entities into broader interdisciplinary areas.

HUM.1.4.1 Afrocentric Governance of Public Affairs (AGoPA)

AGoPA develops knowledge for the governance of public affairs from an Afrocentric perspective, responding to the needs identified in South Africa's National Development Plan. This focus area contributes to building a capable developmental state by producing scholarly knowledge that enhances craft literacy and competence in governance. Research within AGoPA aims to stabilise the political-administrative interface, professionalise public service, and promote intergovernmental relations and local governance in South Africa.

Director: Prof C Hofisi

HUM.1.4.2 Indigenous Language Media in Africa (ILMA)

ILMA is dedicated to exploring African languages in media, focusing on the contrast between public and private financing, media identity, politics, and the role of African traditional communication systems. Its research objectives include studying African-language journalism, corporate communication, development communication, and indigenous communication systems, with a broader aim of fostering media development and democracy in African contexts.

Director: Prof A Salawu

HUM.1.4.3 Musical Arts in South Africa: Resources and Applications (MASARA)

MASARA investigates the role of music and wellbeing, with a particular focus on indigenous South African music. Originally centred on the conservation of indigenous musical traditions, MASARA has expanded its research to encompass the role of music in enhancing wellbeing. Research areas include musicology, music education, performance, and the intersection of music with positive psychology, contributing to diverse fields such as community music and spirituality.

Director: Prof C van Rhyn

HUM.1.4.4 Optentia

Optentia seeks to develop knowledge for the optimal expression of individual, social, and institutional potential, with a special focus on African contexts. The research unit is interdisciplinary, drawing from fields such as psychology, sociology, human resource management, and educational sciences. Its work aims to bridge precarity and capability, enabling the optimal functioning of people and institutions through research on pathways to wellbeing and development.

Director: Prof S Rothman

HUM.1.4.5 Population and Health

The Population and Health research entity focuses on understanding the demographic and health changes affecting South African society, with specific attention to families, households, and policy development. The research programme aims to provide evidence-based contributions to public health and demographic challenges in South Africa and the broader sub-Saharan African context.

Director: Prof ME Palamuleni

HUM.1.4.6 Social Transformation (FAST)

FAST specialises in research that addresses social development and transformation, particularly in the contexts of government, business, and communities. Through its focus on stakeholder management, sustainable governance, and social justice, FAST aims to contribute to improving the quality of life in South Africa and other African countries, with a strong emphasis on sustainable development.

Director: Prof LM Fourie

HUM.1.4.7 Understanding and Processing Language in Complex Settings (UPSET)

UPSET investigates how language functions in multilingual, complex settings, with a focus on South Africa's linguistic landscape. The entity conducts applied linguistic research into language acquisition, policy, and language practice, studying how texts and communication facilitate participation in society. Research on language contact and change, particularly in the context of English and Afrikaans, also forms part of the entity's work.

Director: Prof HG Butler

HUM.1.4.8 Language and Literature in the South African Context

Research in this entity is conducted in ways that are responsive, both in scholarly and social terms, to challenges and opportunities in South Africa, Africa, and the world, and is generally linked to specific languages; they work within and expand associated scholarly traditions, guided by contemporary theoretical approaches.

HUM.1.4.9 Visual Narratives (VINCO)

ViNCO focuses on South African and African visual narratives, exploring how untold stories can be represented and understood through creative practice and visual culture. The entity engages with artistic research, visual culture, and graphic design, offering postgraduate programmes that encourage students to contribute to the discourse on visual narratives in African contexts.

Director: Dr A Conradie-Chetty

HUM.1.5 QUALIFICATIONS AND PROGRAMMES

In compliance with A-Rule 1.2.2, the University is authorised to confer the following postgraduate qualifications. This section provides an overview of all postgraduate programmes offered by the Faculty.

Due to programme restructuring, certain qualifications may not be available for the upcoming academic year. Students are advised to consult the relevant school or department for details on availability.

HUM.1.6 APPLICATION AND ADMISSION

The Faculty of Humanities adheres to the NWU A-Rules related to Application, Selection, and Admission (A-Rule 1.5 and A-Rule 1.4). These rules ensure a fair and transparent admission process across all postgraduate programmes. Applicants must meet the general and programme-specific requirements for admission to Postgraduate Diplomas, Honours, Master's, and Doctoral programmes.

In line with A-Rule 1.18 (Readmission after interruption of studies), students who interrupt their studies and wish to resume must apply for readmission. This process involves formal approval by the relevant faculty structures, and students may need to meet specific conditions or updated qualification requirements upon their return.

The Faculty implements Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) in accordance with A-Rule 1.5.3, allowing applicants who may not meet standard admission requirements to be considered based on formal or experiential learning. RPL can grant admission or advanced standing, with exemptions capped at 50% of the total credits.

The Faculty adheres to Credit Accumulation and Transfer (CAT) policies as governed by A-Rule 1.6, allowing for the transfer of up to 50% of credits from recognised qualifications or institutions. At least 50% of the total credits, including exit-level modules, must be completed at NWU, and all credit transfers must be approved by the relevant faculty structures. Credits older than five years are evaluated on merit and may require additional approval from the Executive Dean.

HUM.1.6.1 Postgraduate Diploma Programmes

Admission to Postgraduate Diploma programmes is governed by A-Rule 1.5 (Application, selection and admission). To be eligible for admission, applicants must:

- Hold a relevant bachelor's degree from an accredited institution.
- Achieve a minimum academic performance as specified by the programme, generally a weighted average of at least 60%.
- Additional programme-specific requirements, such as interviews or relevant work experience, may also be applicable.

HUM.1.6.2 Honours Programmes

Admission to the Honours Degree programmes is governed by A-Rule 1.5. To qualify, applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Hold a relevant bachelor's degree from an accredited institution.
- Achieve the minimum academic performance specified by the programme, typically a weighted average of 65% in the final year of undergraduate studies.
- Additional requirements, such as submission of portfolios, interviews, or entrance examinations, may apply for certain programmes.

HUM.1.6.3 Master's Programmes

Admission to the Master's Degree programmes is governed by A-Rule 4.3 (Requirements for a master's degree). To be eligible, applicants must:

 Hold a Bachelor Honours degree or equivalent qualification in the relevant field.

- Meet the specific academic performance criteria set by the programme, which may include a minimum average mark or relevant work experience.
- Submit a research proposal or participate in an interview, depending on the programme's requirements.

Faculty-Specific Rule:

• In the Masters in Graphic Design (1CQ P01), applicants may be required to submit a portfolio of creative work for admission consideration.

HUM.1.6.4 Doctoral Programmes

Admission to the Doctoral Degree programmes is governed by A-Rule 5.2 (Directives for research and professional doctoral studies). Applicants must:

- Hold a relevant Master's degree or equivalent qualification.
- Submit a research proposal outlining the intended area of study, which must be approved by the faculty.
- Meet additional programme-specific selection criteria, such as an interview or professional experience.

HUM.1.7 REGISTRATION AND ENROLMENT

Students are required to register annually for the duration of their studies, in accordance with A-Rule 1.9 (Registration). This process involves the payment of fees, submission of the necessary registration form, and obtaining all required approvals. Strict adherence to the prescribed deadlines and procedures is essential for maintaining enrolment.

Faculty-Specific Rules (General):

- Active participation: Students are expected to actively participate in teaching, learning, and assessment activities. Failure to comply with these requirements may result in academic review, as per A-Rule 1.9.1.4.
- Amendment or discontinuation of registration: Amendments or discontinuations of registration must comply with faculty procedures. The faculty reserves the right to cancel erroneous registrations, in accordance with A-Rule 1.9.4.

HUM.1.7.1 Postgraduate Diplomas and Honours Degrees

In accordance with A-Rule 3.3, the Faculty permits students to register for additional modules, provided that no timetable clashes arise, and that the total credit load adheres to the limits set by A-Rule 1.8 (Maximum student credit load). Approval must be obtained for the registration of additional modules, ensuring that the total credit load for the academic year remains manageable.

HUM.1.7.2 Master's and Doctoral Degrees

For Master's and Doctoral degrees, annual registration is mandatory, as prescribed by A-Rule 4.7 and A-Rule 5.7.

Students who fail to register by the stipulated deadline, or skip a year, are required to apply for readmission, which is subject to faculty approval and any conditions that may be imposed. Doctoral candidates must be registered within a research entity, with supervision formalised during the registration process, as per A-Rule 5.9.

Faculty-Specific Rules:

- Withdrawal and fees: Students who withdraw from a Master's or Doctoral programme or discontinue coursework after the commencement of formal tuition or study guidance, will not be eligible for fee reimbursement, as per A-Rule 1.9.4.
 - Bursary repayment: Any bursaries received will become repayable upon cancellation or discontinuation of studies.
 - Appeals for bursary exemption: In exceptional circumstances, such as illness or loss of income, students may submit an appeal to the Deputy Dean for Research and Innovation for an exemption from bursary repayment. The faculty bursary committee will assess the appeal and make a recommendation.
- Supervision appointment: The formal appointment of the promoter/supervisory team is facilitated and approved by the faculty structures established by the Deputy Dean for Research and Innovation (RIEHD). In accordance with A-Rule 5.9.2, where the promoter is not employed in a permanent capacity by NWU, a co-promoter who is permanently employed by NWU must be appointed to ensure compliance with NWU's research rules and processes.

HUM.1.8 ACADEMIC PROGRESSION AND MONITORING

The Faculty of Humanities monitors academic progression in accordance with the NWU A-Rules, ensuring that students meet the required standards for credit accumulation and timely progression throughout their postgraduate studies.

Relevant A-Rules:

- A-Rule 1.13: Maximum duration of study and conditions for requesting extensions.
- A-Rule 1.14: Monitoring of academic performance.
- A-Rule 1.15: Progression requirements.
- A-Rule 1.16: Monitoring of academic progress.
- A-Rule 4.10: For Master's students, this rule outlines the submission of progress reports, completion of coursework, and research components.
- A-Rule 5.10: For Doctoral students, this rule governs the submission of progress reports detailing the advancement of their thesis or research project.

Faculty-Specific Rules:

- Active participation: Active participation in coursework, seminars, and research activities is compulsory for maintaining academic progress, in line with A-Rule 1.9.1.4. Failure to actively participate may result in an academic review.
- Progress reporting:
- Master's students must submit regular progress reports on coursework and research in line with A-Rule 4.10.
- Doctoral students must submit progress reports detailing thesis or research progress, as stipulated by A-Rule 5.10. Failure to meet reporting requirements may trigger an academic review.

HUM.1.9 ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION

Assessments in the Faculty of Humanities are conducted in accordance with A-Rule 1.12, which governs general assessment procedures, academic integrity, and external moderation. Students are required to comply with these rules to maintain good academic standing.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity in all assessments, as per A-Rule 1.21 (Withdrawal of a qualification for academic dishonesty). Any form of academic dishonesty, such as plagiarism or cheating, will be addressed through disciplinary measures, which may include the revocation of qualifications. Compliance with the NWU Academic Integrity Policy is mandatory to ensure ethical academic conduct.

Postgraduate Diplomas and Honours Degrees

Assessments for Postgraduate Diplomas and Honours Degrees are governed by A-Rule 3.5, which outlines the procedures for internal and external evaluation, ensuring consistency and fairness across these programmes.

Faculty-Specific Rules:

 External moderation: Final assessment results of all exit-level modules in the Honours and Postgraduate Diploma programmes must be externally moderated every year, in compliance with A-Rule 3.5.1.2.

Master's Degrees

The Faculty follows the NWU A-Rules governing Master's Degree assessments, which include both coursework and research components, ensuring high academic standards are maintained.

Relevant A-Rules:

- A-Rule 4.3: Requirements for completing a Master's Degree.
- A-Rule 4.4: Requirements for the research component.
- A-Rule 4.5: Submission process for dissertations.
- A-Rule 4.6: Examination of research components.
- A-Rule 4.10: Supervision of research.
- A-Rule 4.18: External moderation of dissertations.

Faculty-Specific Rule:

- Research component in article format: In accordance with A-Rule 4.4.2, the Faculty allows students to submit the research component of a master's degree in article format. For a full dissertation, students may submit two journal articles with an extended introduction and conclusion. For a mini-dissertation, one journal article may be submitted. These articles are not required to be submitted to a journal for publication.
- Creative output for graphic design: For the Master's in Graphic Design (1CQ P01), the research component includes a portfolio of creative works or a professional exhibition, constituting 50% of the total research requirement, as per A-Rule 4.4.4.2 and A-Rule 4.4.4.3.
- External moderation: As per A-Rule 4.18.2.3, all examination materials or additional summative assessment components for master's dissertations are submitted for external moderation, ensuring that the quality of assessments meets institutional standards.

Doctoral Degrees

Assessments for Doctoral Degrees are governed by the following relevant A-Rules, which ensure rigorous evaluation of research outputs:

Relevant A-Rules:

- A-Rule 5.4: Requirements for the research component.
- A-Rule 5.9: Supervision and appointment of promoters.
- A-Rule 5.10: Registration of research proposals and titles.
- A-Rule 5.11: Submission of research for external examination.
- A-Rule 5.16: External examination of doctoral theses.

Faculty-Specific Rules:

- DMus programme: In the DMus programme, the written research must be complemented by creative outputs, such as performances or artworks, in line with A-Rule 5.4.4.3.
- Supervision: The appointment of the promoter and/or supervisory team follows A-Rule 5.9, facilitated through faculty structures and ratified by the Faculty Board. If the promoter is not permanently employed by NWU, a co-promoter who is, must be appointed to guide NWU's postgraduate processes.
- Examination and moderation: PhD theses are externally examined as per A-Rule 5.16.2.3. Internal moderation is not applicable for these submissions.

HUM.1.10 GRADUATION AND QUALIFICATION ATTAINMENT

The Faculty of Humanities awards qualifications to students who successfully complete all programme requirements, in accordance with the NWU A-Rules. The relevant rules governing qualification attainment include:

Relevant A-Rules:

- A-Rule 3.6: Requirements for the award of Honours Degrees.
- A-Rule 4.24: Requirements for the award of Master's Degrees.
- A-Rule 5.21: Requirements for the award of Doctoral Degrees.

In cases of academic dishonesty, the Faculty may revoke qualifications following the process outlined in A-Rule 1.21 (Withdrawal of a qualification for academic dishonesty). Additionally, degrees may be awarded posthumously under the conditions set by A-Rule 1.22.

Faculty-Specific Rules:

- PhD programmes (5.4.2): The thesis may be presented in an article format, consisting of at least three manuscripts, with proof of submission of one article to an accredited journal.
- DMus programmes (5.4.4.3): The written research component must be complemented by the submission of creative products.
- Article Submission (5.12.1): Submission of an article to an accredited journal is not required for the award of a doctoral degree, except for PhD programmes following the article-based format as specified in 5.4.2.

HUM.1.11 GOVERNANCE AND DATA PROTECTION

The Faculty of Humanities adheres to the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA) and A-Rule 1.10 (Protection of personal education-related information), ensuring that student information is safeguarded. The Faculty will not disclose any student information to third parties without the explicit consent of the student.

HUM.1.12 APPENDIX: CROSS-REFERENCES AND RELEVANT A-RULES

This appendix provides an overview of the relevant NWU A-Rules applicable to postgraduate qualifications in the Faculty of Humanities. HUM.3 HONOURS DEGREES

The Faculty of Humanities offers four distinct types of Honours qualifications:

- HUM.4 Bachelor of Arts Honours
- HUM.5 Bachelor of Arts Honours in Communication
- HUM.6 Bachelor of Social Sciences Honours
- HUM.7 Bachelor of Philosophy Honours

These qualifications, along with their respective programmes, are listed in HUM.1.5.2. Students should refer to the specific programme descriptions to confirm the availability of full-time or part-time study options. While each programme has its own curriculum, the general rules governing these Honours qualifications apply across all programmes.

HUM.3.1 RULES FOR HONOURS DEGREES

HUM.3.1.1 Duration (minimum and maximum duration)

The minimum duration for an Honours degree is one year for full-time students and two years for part-time students, while the maximum duration is two years for full-time and three years for part-time students, in accordance with A-Rule 1.13. The duration is calculated from the year of first registration for the specific programme.

HUM.3.1.2 Admission requirements for the qualification

In addition to the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 1.5, the following specific requirements apply to all Honours qualifications:

- a) Applicants must possess a relevant bachelor's degree or an equivalent qualification as approved by the Faculty Board.
- b) The Senate may, under certain conditions, allow students who hold a non-relevant bachelor's degree to register for an Honours qualification, provided additional coursework or requirements are met.

HUM.3.1.3 Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In accordance with A-Rule 1.5.3, applicants may be considered for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) based on relevant formal or experiential learning. RPL can be used for admission or advanced standing into the qualification, with a maximum of 50% of total credits allowed through RPL.

HUM.3.1.4 Assessment and Examination

Assessments and examinations for Honours qualifications are conducted in accordance with the A-Rules, particularly A-Rule 3.5, which governs the assessment of postgraduate diplomas and honours degrees. This ensures that all evaluations comply with the university's academic standards.

The Faculty upholds the principles of academic integrity as detailed in A-Rule 1.21, and any form of academic dishonesty, including plagiarism or cheating, will result in disciplinary measures, which may include the revocation of qualifications.

HUM.3.1.5 Articulation

On successful completion of an Honours degree, students may articulate to a relevant Master's degree programme, subject to meeting the admission requirements of the Master's programme. For more information, students should consult the specific Master's programme descriptions or contact the relevant school or department.

- c) deal critically with the methodologies of Creative Writing and other applicable literary theories, evaluating them in a principled, accountable manner, and communicating such evaluations responsibly in written form or within group discussions;
- d) illustrate in written form or within group discussions knowledge of and insight into the specific nature and characteristics of applicable literary genres (prose, poetry, drama, children's and youth literature), e.g. by contextualising them within the relevant genre traditions;
- e) plan, write, edit and prepare original creative writing in chosen genres, with due observance of the current, dynamic South African literary publication context;
- f) form and communicate an own creative and literary perspective, based on learners' own experiences of the writing process as well as on acquired knowledge of and insights into literary theory and the development of literary history and criticism; and
- g) manage own critical and creative work in a competent, literate, ethical and professional way, presenting it in such a way that it can be of valuable use in various disciplines and professions.

HUM.4.4.3 Articulation

Successful completion of the Bachelors Arts Honours in Creative Writing will enable both horizontal and vertical articulation opportunities on the premise that the graduate meets all the minimum entry requirements of the chosen articulation pathway.

For horizontal articulation, this qualification will provide access to enter relevant cognate programmes that exit at NQF Level 8, such as the Bachelor of Arts Honours in Translation and Professional Writing offered by the NWU or the Bachelor of Arts Honours in Translation studies offered by other South African Universities

For vertical articulation, this qualification will provide access to enter a programme that exits at NQF level 9, such as the Master of Arts in Linguistics and Literary Theory offered by the NWU or a Master of Arts in Creative Writing offered by other South African Universities.

HUM.4.4.4 Other rules

- a) The different modules for which students may opt, will be limited to those which the School of Languages and the Subject Groups Creative Writing, English and Afrikaans and Dutch can teach in a certain year according to their particular circumstances. Factors such as staff sabbaticals, the minimum number of students required for a course, and other circumstances may play a role.
- b) Under certain circumstances and with the approval of the various directors of Schools, a student may be allowed to take one additional module from a related subject. Consult the chairperson of the subject group involved.

Students who wish to be admitted into this programme will be screened by means of the submission of an original piece of writing. Approach the chairperson of the Subject Group Creative Writing about this requirement in good time.

- c) Before starting Honours studies, students must apply to the university on the prescribed online form, for screening purposes by the subject group Creative Writing.
- d) The compilation of a specific student's Honours programme is subject to the final approval of the chairperson of the Subject Group Creative Writing as well as of the School Director/Deputy Director on a specific campus of the School of Languages.

- A student must include at least TWO modules (24 credits each) from the available elective modules.
- c) Students who have not completed Afrikaans and Dutch as a major subject at undergraduate level, are required to include SKRK671 as one of the optional modules.
- d) Students who completed AFLL311 and AFLL321 (or equivalent modules) will not be allowed to take SKRK671.
- e) Students are allowed to take one additional module from a related field at honours level, but they must then register separately for that specific module, e.g. ENLL673.
- f) Students who wish to register for more than the two additional modules of 24 credits each, must apply for permission from the applicable subject chairperson and the School Director/Deputy Director on a specific campus.

HUM.4.6 PROGRAMME – ENGLISH (CODE 1FC L01)

Bachelor of Arts Honours in English
Qualification Code:	1FC L01 L601M	School of Languages
Campus:	Mahikeng
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

HUM.4.6.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Honours qualifications outlined in HUM.3, and the general admission requirements set out in the A-Rules, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) Registration for Honours studies must take place not later than 31 January.
- b) The prerequisite for admission to English Honours is a bachelor's degree or the equivalent of such a degree in which the following modules or their equivalents were successfully completed: ENGL111, 121, 211, 221, 311, 321 (before 2010) or ENLL111, 121, 211, 221, 311, 321 (since 2010).
- c) To enrol for the Honours programme in English, a student must have obtained a minimum final mark of 60% for the third level courses in English (i.e. ENGL311 and ENGL321 before 2010 and ENLL311 and ENLL321 since 2010). Students who did not obtain this required minimum, may apply to sit an admission exam.
- d) Students who require admission to the Honours programme in English must arrange for an interview with the Chairperson of the Subject Group, who may decide upon an additional evaluation, in which case admission will be dependent on the successful outcome of the evaluation.

HUM.4.6.2 Programme outcomes

The composition of a student's programme depends on whether the student chooses a (i) literary, (ii) linguistic or (iii) combined approach.

In the case of (i), the general programme outcomes are to enable students to develop scholarly knowledge of and insight into English literature by developing:

- a knowledge of English literature and literature in English that would include a substantial number of authors and texts from different periods and geographic locales;
- a knowledge and understanding of the specific nature and characteristics of texts in the major literary genres (fiction, poetry and drama), as well as other kinds of complementary writing;
- c) an awareness of the role of critical traditions in shaping literary history;
- d) an awareness of how literature and language produce and reflect cultural change and difference;
- e) a knowledge of useful and precise critical and theoretical terminology; and
- f) an awareness of the range and variety of approaches to literary study and concomitant scholarly methodologies.

In the case of (ii), the general programme outcomes are to enable students to develop scholarly knowledge of and insight into English linguistics by developing:

 a general understanding of the linguistic conventions and constructions of the English language; ۲

- b) the ability to analyse English language data from a variety of perspectives, at different levels of linguistic organisation and at increased levels of abstraction;
- c) the ability to solve real-world language problems, by applying linguistic knowledge and integrating knowledge of language with relevant neighbouring ancillary disciplines;
- a critical understanding of the theoretical frameworks, underlying assumptions, and methods of analysis appropriate to the study of language;
- e) a critical understanding of the role of English in society, in particular its relation to other language and the empowerment of people.

In the case of (iii), the general programme purpose would be to enable students to develop scholarly knowledge of and insight into English literature and linguistics by developing a combination of relevant aspects from (i) and (ii) as determined by the specific compilation of the student's course.

UNLESS OTHERWISE STATED IN THE MODULE OUTCOMES, THE PARTICIPATION MARK FOR ALL ENGLISH HONOURS MODULES COUNTS 60% AND THE EXAMINATION MARK 40%.

HUM.4.9 PROGRAMME – FRENCH (CODE 1EF L01)

Bachelor of Arts Honours in French
Qualification Code:	1EF L01 L601P	School of Languages
Campus:	Potchefstroom
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

HUM.4.9.1 Rules for the degree Bachelor of Arts Honours in French

This programme is offered in conjunction with and according to an agreement between the Department of Modern European Languages of the Faculty of Humanities of the University of Pretoria and the School of Languages (Subject Group: French) and the Faculty of Humanities at the Potchefstroom Campus of the North-West University. In terms of the agreement the programme is arranged as follows:

- a) In all cases a student must take a minimum of five modules for the programme and pass them before a degree may be awarded by the university concerned.
- b) Two modules must be taken from the available Honours modules offered by staff of the Department of French of the University of Pretoria.
- c) Two modules must be taken from the available Honours modules offered by staff of the Subject Group: French of the School of Languages of the North-West University (Potchefstroom Campus).
- d) A fifth module (research methodology and a research report) will be taken on the campus where the student is primarily registered, at either the University of Pretoria or the North-West University (Potchefstroom Campus).
- e) The modules on the various campuses will be offered via the following methods: contact sessions on the campus where the student has been registered with the support of educational technology (Skype, video sessions, online learning environments, etc.) in order to follow the modules on the other campus. It may be expected from students to occasionally attend contact sessions on the other campus.

HUM.4.9.2 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Honours qualifications outlined in HUM.3, and the general admission requirements set out in the A-Rules, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) The prerequisite for admission to French Honours is a Bachelor's degree or the equivalent of such a degree in which the following modules or their equivalents were successfully completed: FREN311, 321 or a minimum of 60 credits in French at the University of Pretoria. The final year modules must have been passed with an average of at least 65%.
- b) Students who did not obtain this required minimum of 65% may apply to the chairperson of the Subject Group French and the Director of the School of Languages of the North-West University (Potchefstroom Campus) with the aim of possible admission to the Honours programme. Exceptions will be dealt with on merit. In such a case the final decision regarding admission to the programme will be taken by the interuniversity programme committee.

HUM.4.9.3 Programme outcomes

The programme aims to develop scientific knowledge of and insight into the linguistic structure and literature of French. On completion of this programme, students should have developed the ability to:

- acquire scientific factual knowledge and insight into the connections between related matters, by means of an interdisciplinary approach to academic disciplines;
- b) identify and solve problems in a critical and creative manner;
- c) acquire, control, apply, analyse and integrate knowledge independently and evaluate it in a principled manner;
- d) be effective learners who understand the need for life-long learning;
- e) have the ability to describe, place and analyse selected works, authors or aspects from a literary historical perspective;
- f) know and master the linguistic nature of French;
- g) know and master theories of language and literature;
- h) deal critically with the methodologies of various theories;
- formulate and express a personal opinion on literature based on subject-specific and theoretical knowledge;
- j) articulate the value of language and literature within a vocational context; and
- k) recognise, understand and communicate the literature phenomena of the culturally diverse South African and world populations.

HUM.4.9.4 Articulation

On successful completion of this programme, students who have obtained the degree with a mark of at least 65% may, with the approval of the Director of the Research Area, be admitted to an MA degree in General Linguistic and Literary Theory at the Potchefstroom Campus of the North-West University. Alternatively, a student can apply to do an MA degree at the University of Pretoria provided that the student meets the relevant prerequisites.

HUM.4.9.5 Other rules

- a) North-West University (Potchefstroom Campus): The different modules from which a student may choose will be limited to those that the School of Languages and the relevant subject group can teach in a certain year according to their particular circumstances. Factors such as staff sabbaticals, the minimum number of students required for a course, and other events may play a role.
- b) The interuniversity programme committee will determine which modules will be offered annually in the light of a) above.
- c) A student who wishes to register for this programme must report to the leader of the particular programme on the particular campus before the beginning of his/her studies to apply for admission to the programme on the prescribed form and before the prescribed deadline.
- d) The compilation of a student's Honours programme in French will be subject to the final approval of the interuniversity programme committee as well as of the Director of the School of Languages at the Potchefstroom Campus of the North-West University.
- e) A student who considers studies towards an MA degree, must please take note of the relevant requirements and regulations for the continuation of studies at this level at the Potchefstroom Campus of the North-West University and the University of Pretoria.

HUM.4.9.6 Compilation of programme 1EF L01 L601P: French

This first postgraduate level programme offers students the opportunity to develop their interest in and knowledge of French in order to prepare them for further postgraduate studies. The compilation of a programme would offer the student ideally the opportunity to engage, already on Honours level at the Potchefstroom Campus of the North-West University, in a research entity.

Please note: The primary university/campus for a relevant module is indicated in brackets.

Please note:

*Students who wish to continue to an MA and PhD in Language Practice are strongly encouraged to enrol for LPRA689.

The presentation of these modules is subject to the availability of the modules in each year, as determined by the relevant responsible subject group.

c) The compilation of the student's honours programme is in all cases subject to the final approval of the subject chairperson as well as the director of the School of Languages.

HUM.4.12 PROGRAMME – LANGUAGE TECHNOLOGY (CODE 1BA L01)

Bachelor of Arts Honours in Language Technology
Qualification Code:	1BA L01 L601P	School of Languages
Campus:	Potchefstroom
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

HUM.4.12.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Honours qualifications outlined in HUM.3, and the general admission requirements set out in the A-Rules, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) A Bachelor's degree or equivalent qualification is required, for which the following modules or their equivalents were passed with an average of at least 60%: TTEG122, TTEG222, TTEG312, and TTEG322 on the Potchefstroom Campus of the NWU.
- b) Students who have not obtained the required minimum of 60% on level three for the relevant modules or who have obtained the first Bqualification at another institution, can apply to the chairperson of the Department. of Language Technology and the Director of the School of Languages of the NWU (Potchefstroom Campus) for possible acceptance to this honours programme. Exceptions will be considered on merit and may include an admission test and/or taking the required modules additionally.

HUM.4.12.2 Programme outcomes

The programme has as its goal to develop scientific insight and knowledge in Language Technology. That entails the following:

- a) The acquisition of scientific factual knowledge, and insight into the coherence of the relevant topics by engaging on an interdisciplinary level with the academic offering.
- b) The skill to identify and solve problems critically and creatively.
- c) The skills to acquire, apply, analyse, integrate and evaluate knowledge independently.
- d) Students will have the ability, knowledge and values by which to create, develop, manage and exploit language resources, create language technology applications and follow a career in the field.
- Students will understand the multilingual complexity of South Africa and will contribute via language technology to the empowerment of the entire community.
- f) Students will be able to contribute to the management of information and information sources with their knowledge and understanding of applicable multidisciplinary concepts, structures, models, theories and research methodology.
- g) Students will be able to solve Information Technology (IT) related problems by using their deep-seated knowledge and insight into the field of IT, and by using approaches and techniques from related fields.
- Students will realise the importance of ensuring continued capability and staying on the frontline of the latest technologies and techniques, and stay lifelong students by utilising a well-established learning ability.

HUM.4.12.3 Articulation

On successful completion of this qualification, students (who have obtained the degree with a mark of at least 65%) may, with the approval of the Director of a research entity, be admitted into the Master of Arts in Applied Linguistics or General Language Theory at NQF Level 9.

HUM.4.12.4 Other rules

- a) The different modules a student may choose, will be limited to those which the School of Languages and the relevant subject group can teach in a certain year according to their circumstances. Factors such as staff sabbaticals, the minimum number of students required for a course, and other events may play a role.
- b) A student who wishes to register for the programme in Language Technology must report to the applicable subject chairperson and the School Director/Deputy Director before the beginning of his/her studies to apply for admission on the prescribed form.
- c) Before a student may register for any honours module in a specific language, he/she must already have passed the required undergraduate modules for the relevant subject. In practical terms, this would imply that a student may not register for an honours module in English if he/she has not completed and passed the undergraduate modules for English.
- d) The compilation of a student's Honours programme will be subject to the final approval of the applicable subject chairperson as well as of the Director of the School of Languages.
- e) A student who considers studies for a Master's degree, must please note that the relevant Subject Group can set requirements for the continuation of studies at this level.

The following rules apply to TTEG 673 and TTEG 674:

- a) Internship should be done at an institution approved by the School of Languages and CTexT, under the supervision of an internship supervisor who has been approved by the School of Languages and CTexT.
- b) Internship lasts for a minimum of 640 working hours (about four (4) months). The full-time need not be done in one institution. It can be completed in more than one approved institution, in South Africa or in a foreign country.
- c) Although the School of Languages and CTexT will help in finding suitable internships, the final responsibility rests with the learner.
- d) In principle, there is no financial remuneration for internship learners work at their own expense. However, there is no objection if a learner should be remunerated for services rendered.

HUM.4.13 PROGRAMME – LINGUISTIC STUDIES (CODE 1FF L01)

Bachelor of Arts Honours in Linguistic Studies
Qualification Code:	1FF L01 L601P	School of Languages
Campus:	Potchefstroom
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

HUM.4.13.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Honours qualifications outlined in HUM.3, and the general admission requirements set out in the A-Rules, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- A bachelor's degree or the equivalent of such a degree in which the following modules or their equivalents were successfully completed: ENLL311, ENLL321, AFLL311 and AFLL321.
- A minimum final mark of 60% for the third level modules in English (ENLL311 and ENLL321) and Afrikaans and Dutch (AFLL311 and AFLL321).

HUM.4.13.2 Programme outcomes

The programme aims to develop scientific insight into and knowledge of the linguistics of particular languages. The outcomes listed below are generic for language curricula at this level. The particular outcomes for the various curricula are specified according to the focus of the relevant programme (Linguistics), the nature of the subject, and the language studied. On completion of this programme, students should have developed the ability to:

- Acquire scientific, factual knowledge as well as insight into the connections between related matters by means of an interdisciplinary approach to academic disciplines;
- b) Identify and solve problems critically and creatively;
- c) Acquire, control, apply, analyse and integrate knowledge independently and evaluate it responsibly;
- d) Be effective learners who understand the need for life-long learning;
- e) Articulate and justify a personal frame of reference;
- f) Know and master the linguistic nature of various languages;
- g) Know and master linguistic theories;
- h) Deal critically with the methodologies of various theories;
- i) Formulate and express a personal opinion on linguistics based on subject-specific and theoretical knowledge;
- j) Articulate the value of linguistics within a vocational context;
- Recognise, understand and communicate the linguistic phenomena of the culturally diverse South African and world populations.

HUM.4.13.3 Articulation

On successful completion of this programme, students who have obtained the degree with a mark of at least 65% may, with the approval of the Director of the Focus Area, be admitted to a Master's degree in a linguistic field in Afrikaans and Dutch and English.

HUM.4.13.4 Other rules

a) The different modules from which students may choose, will be limited to those which the School of Languages and the relevant subject group can teach in a certain year according to their circumstances. Factors such as staff sabbaticals, the minimum number of students required for a course, and other events may play a role.

- b) Students who wish to register for the Programme in Linguistics must report to the leader of the particular programme before the beginning of their studies to apply for admission on the prescribed form.
- c) Before a student may register for any honours module in a specific language, he/she must already have passed the required undergraduate modules for the relevant subject. In practical terms, this would imply that a student may not register for an honours module in English if he/she has not completed and passed the undergraduate modules for English.
- d) The compilation of a specific student's Honours Programme will be subject to the final approval of the programme leader and the Director of the School of Languages.
- e) Students who consider proceeding to study for a Master's degree, must please note that the relevant Subject Group can set requirements for the continuation of studies at this level.

HUM.4.16.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Honours qualifications outlined in HUM.3, and the general admission requirements set out in the A-Rules, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) A Bachelor's degree is required with Setswana as major with an average of at least 60%.
- b) Students who wish to register for Honours studies when more than 6 years have elapsed since the completion of their Bachelor's degree, and who complied with the requirement of 60% in their studies, will have to pass an additional entrance examination.
- c) The following categories of students may be required to take compulsory course units and/or pass an admission test: (i) students who completed their bachelor's degree at another university; (ii) students who passed Setswana as a major but who did not obtain an average of 60% on level 3.

HUM.4.16.2 Programme outcomes

On completion of the Programme, students should be able to:

- a) demonstrate a thorough and systematic knowledge of various aspects of correct research methodology, linguistic theory, Setswana morphology and syntax and Setswana semantics;
- b) demonstrate a thorough and systematic knowledge of various aspects of correct research methodology, literary theory, Setswana prose, Setswana poetry, Setswana drama and the Setswana language in general.

The programme (and Programme) aims to develop scientific insight into and knowledge of the linguistics and literature of Setswana, which would entail the following:

- Acquisition of scholarly and scientific knowledge as well as insight into the relationships between academic disciplines by means of an interdisciplinary approach;
- b) Acquisition, control, analysis, integration and application of knowledge independently, as well as to evaluate it in a principled and wellgrounded manner;
- c) Students to be effective learners who realise the need for life-long learning;
- d) Knowing and mastering various literary and linguistic theories;
- Dealing critically with the methodologies of various linguistic and literary theories;
- Formulating personal literary and linguistic opinions based on subjectspecific and theoretical knowledge;

- g) Articulating and communicating the value of language and literature within a vocational context; and
- Recognising and understanding of the linguistic and literary phenomena of culturally-diverse South African and world populations and to communicate them to others.

HUM.4.16.2.1 Articulation

On successful completion of the Programme, students (who have obtained the degree with a mark of at least 65%) may be admitted to a Master's degree in Setswana.

HUM.4.16.2.2 Other rules

- a) The different modules from which students may choose, will be limited to those which the School of Languages and the Subject Group Setswana can teach in a specific year according to their particular circumstances. Factors such as staff sabbaticals, the minimum number of students required for a course, and other circumstances may play a role.
- b) In order to be admitted to Honours studies, a student must apply to the applicable School Director/Deputy Directors on a specific campus on the prescribed form available from the admissions office.
- c) The compilation of the students' Honours Programme is subject to the final approval of the applicable subject chairperson and the School Director/Deputy Directors on a specific campus.

HUM.8 MASTER'S DEGREES

The Faculty of Humanities offers the following Master's qualifications:

- HUM.9 Master of Arts
- HUM.10 Master of Music
- HUM.11 Master of Arts in Development and Management
- HUM.12 Master of Philosophy
- HUM.13 Master of Social Anthropology
- HUM.14 Master of Social Sciences

These qualifications are listed in detail under HUM.1.5.3. Students should refer to the specific programme descriptions in that section to determine whether full-time or part-time study options are available. Although each programme has a distinct curriculum, the general rules governing Master's qualifications apply across all these programmes.

HUM.8.1 RULES FOR MASTER'S DEGREES

The Master's degree in the Faculty of Humanities follows an Honours degree, a four-year degree, or another recognised qualification approved by Senate, or after the status of an Honours or four-year degree has been granted.

HUM.8.1.1 Duration (minimum and maximum duration)

The minimum duration for a Master's degree is one year for full-time students and two years for part-time students, while the maximum duration is three years for full-time students and four years for part-time students, as outlined in A-Rule 1.13. The duration is calculated from the year of first registration for the specific programme.

HUM.8.1.2 Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In accordance with A-Rule 1.5.3, applicants may be considered for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) based on relevant formal or experiential learning. RPL can be used for admission or advanced standing into the qualification, with a maximum of 50% of total credits allowed through RPL.

HUM.8.1.3 Admission requirements of the qualification

The admission requirements (A-Rule 1.5) and registration requirements (A-Rule 1.9, A-Rule 4.7) are outlined in A-Rule 4.3. Specific admission criteria for the various programmes and curricula are provided in the programme-specific rules.

For more detailed information on the technical requirements for the minidissertation or dissertation, students should refer to the Manual for Higher Degree Studies (A-Rule 4.1).

HUM.8.1.4 Assessment and Examination

Doctoral degree assessments are governed by A-Rule 4.18, which outlines the examination and external moderation of doctoral theses. This ensures that all research outputs meet the university's academic standards.

The Faculty follows A-Rule 1.21 on academic integrity, and any instance of academic dishonesty, such as plagiarism, will be addressed through strict disciplinary measures, including the potential revocation of qualifications.

HUM.8.1.5 Articulation

On successful completion of a Master's degree, students may articulate to a Doctoral programme, subject to the specific admission requirements of the Doctoral programme. For further details, students should refer to the Doctoral programme descriptions or consult with the relevant faculty representatives.

HUM.9.6 PROGRAMME – COMPARATIVE AFRICAN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE (CODE 1GT N01)

Master of Arts in Comparative African Languages and Literature
Qualification Code:	1GT N01 L801V
Campus:	Vanderbijlpark
Delivery mode:	Full-time

HUM.9.6.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Master's qualifications outlined in HUM.8, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 4.3, the following specific requirements apply to this programme

- a) To qualify for admission to a Master's programme, a student must be in possession of an Honours degree in an appropriate field or its equivalent as approved by Senate, as well as comply with any other requirements prescribed in the rules of the faculty offering the Master's degree.
- b) The Honours degree, which is the prerequisite for admission to this degree, must have been obtained with an average of 65%.
- c) Students who did not obtain 65% for their Honours degrees, may apply to be interviewed by the relevant supervisor, school director and the research entity director.

Students only write a dissertation (180 credits) in this Programme.

After the proposal for the dissertation has been approved by the relevant research entity, the title is finally approved by the Faculty Board on the recommendation of the relevant School/Research Director.

HUM.9.6.2 Programme outcomes

The overall programme outcomes are to enable students to:

- Gain advanced knowledge to enable them to critique current research in Comparative African Languages and Literature as a field of study.
- b) Develop an in-depth of knowledge and critical understanding of the methodology, theory, literature review, research and intellectual history of Comparative African Languages and Literature.
- c) Study a range of interventions in the field of Comparative African Languages and Literature, evaluate such interventions and be able to apply such interventions within the professional settings.
- d) Gain an advanced knowledge of research, data collection, data analysis techniques and the skills in communicating the research findings.
- e) Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of concepts in related fields of study and also be able to identify a research problem and reflect the correct use of concepts and theories.
- f) Demonstrate scholarly knowledge and critically question the basic assumptions of relevant linguistic and literary theories and some scholarly positions on such theories
- g) Demonstrate knowledge and comprehension of, and also provide a substantive contribution to, the process of thinking about language as a dimension of diversity and identity.
- Demonstrate the ability to creatively select, design and apply appropriate methods and techniques appropriate to the research project.
- i) Critically apply knowledge and theory to address scholarly arguments and problems pertaining to theories of language and literature.

- j) Locate research in the South African and African contexts regarding specific problems pertaining to language and literature.
- k) Design and implement methods of enquiry to address challenging problems in the field of Comparative African Languages and Literature as the Higher Education Policy on languages acknowledges South Africa's linguistic diversity and ensures the implementation of the imperatives of transformation, namely 'access' and 'redress'.
- Be able to contribute to the promotion of ethical standards in specific contexts and make ethical decisions to promote research groups, communities as well as individuals.
- m) Give an account of a scholarly position pertaining to the Language Planning and Language Policy of South Africa.
- n) Be able to communicate the research report written in a scholarly manner. The communication of findings should involve the development and dissemination of a research report to appropriate readers. It should be organized, and contain enough information to inform, but at the same time it should be succinct. Attention should be given to the writing style, which should be appropriate for prospective readers, whether scientists, linguists or literature scholars. The student should become familiar with the publication policies of journals because the research findings should be publishable.
- o) Be able to communicate ideas from comparative African Languages and Literature to a wide range of audiences and readers that African Languages are capable of functioning in the production of knowledge that can be used in the development of the African continent.
- p) Demonstrate the ability to work independently on an own research project. Be able to take initiative in leading a team to undertake a research project. Take responsibility and accountability for ensuring good resource management as well as governance practices. Interpretations and arguments should be used by students to give an accurate account of scholarly positions, viewpoints and solutions.

HUM.9.6.3 Recognition of prior learning (RPL)

For access to Masters of Arts in Comparative African Languages and Literature, recognition of prior learning (RPL) is considered.

- a) Under certain circumstances, a student with a four-year undergraduate degree from Education Studies, Humanities studies or related disciplines may be considered for admission to this Master's programme. A well-written application outlining academic as well as the professional background and career objectives will be required from the student intending to be admitted to the programme.
- b) Individuals who have gained valuable work experience and students with previous college credits are strong candidates to have this background converted into credits to be applied towards this qualification.
- c) The most common form of Prior Learning Assessment, is a research project. The student is expected to submit a written research project featuring a highly developed theme supported with intellectual arguments and evidence. Topics can include any subject relevant to the study within an academic discipline, and should be characterized by strong writing, original thinking and references.
- d) Upon submission of the research project, an assigned academic who is an expert in the student's intended area of study, reviews the application using the Prior Learning Assessment guidelines. The academic then makes a determination of the relative worth of the student's research project.

- e) An interview will be conducted with the applicant by a selection team.
- f) A portfolio containing evidence of prior learning in academic fields, a brief overview of work experience and a brief motivation as to why the student wants to be admitted in the programme must be submitted. This portfolio will be considered by a selection team for admission into the programme.

Qualification Code:	1CU N01 L801V
Campus:	Vanderbijlpark
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

The Programme designed in this programme provides highly specialised training in Language Practice.

HUM.9.7.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Master's qualifications outlined in HUM.8, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 4.3, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) A student must have a recognised Honours degree in any language, language practice, translation studies, or have the status of such a degree approved by Senate. Its study contents must be to the satisfaction of the Chairperson of the Subject Group, the Director of the Research Focus Area, and where necessary, the Director of the School of Languages, for a proposed MA study.
- b) A student must have obtained an average mark of at least 65% in the BA honours examination. In case a student did not obtain 65% in the BA honours examination, he/she may apply for an interview with the Chairperson of the particular subject group, the School Director and the Director of the Focus Area.
- c) The student also has to demonstrate an acceptable level of academic literacy.

HUM.9.7.2 Programme outcomes

The student should:

- Possess a systematic and comprehensive knowledge of historical and current developments in language practice broadly, and sophisticated knowledge of particular areas of specialisation
- b) Possess a coherent and critical understanding of key terms, concepts, principles, theories, debates and current issues in language practice, and be able to evaluate current and advanced research in a particular area of specialisation
- c) Be able to reflect epistemologically on theoretical principles and debates in a particular field of language practice
- Understand the key research methods, techniques and technologies appropriate to language practice and select and apply these in order to investigate a particular problem
- e) Identify, analyse and engage with complex, real-life problems and situations related to a field of specialisation in language practice by means of theoretical and logical argumentation, as well as qualitative and quantitative research where applicable
- f) Identify, collect, critically analyse, synthesise and independently evaluate qualitative and quantitative information on a particular topic in language practice effectively and responsibly by using various types of high-level academic and professional sources
- g) Communicate academic-professional work coherently by applying the conventions of academic discourse in writing a dissertation, and adapt communication strategies in order to effectively communicate with a variety of audiences in different contexts

 Be committed to a process of life-long learning, specifically with reference to social, economic, political, and technological developments in the language professions.

HUM.9.7.3 Specific rules

- a) Students who completed a BA Honours in any language (e.g. English, Afrikaans, and Sesotho) or Language Practice may be admitted to this Programme, if admission is recommended by the research and school directors.
- b) Students write only a dissertation (180 credits) in this Programme.
- c) After the topic of the dissertation has been approved by the relevant research entity, the faculty board finally approves it on the recommendation of the relevant research and school directors.

HUM.9.10.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Master's qualifications outlined in HUM.8, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 4.3, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) To gain admission to this Master's degree, a student must have obtained a Bachelor Honours degree in the relevant field of study with a minimum average of 65%. Alternatively, applicants must have the status of such a qualification granted on request by the Senate, by attaining a level of competence which, in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the Faculty, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree. An applicant for registration must give evidence of his/her attainments and education and complete such preliminary work as Senate may require, and must satisfy Senate as to the suitability of his/her subject of choice. An evaluation certificate as issued by the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) must be submitted if a previous qualification was obtained in a foreign country.
- b) Admission to Programme L801M/P depends on a screening/selection process scheduled for October of the previous year. In November there will be a "paper selection" in order to grant preliminary approval. The student need to successfully present the research proposal in March of the following year to a selection panel in order to be finally almitted to the program. Information with regard to this process, can be obtained from the Director of the Research Focus Area, Social Transformation.
- Admission is limited according to available capacity within the School of Communication.
- d) In the case where the programme is not yet filled to capacity, and an applicant does not meet the requirement of 65%, but has obtained the degree with an average of 60-64%, an application for consideration to be admitted to this programme could be submitted to the relevant School/Research Director. The application should include a complete academic record and a 1-page motivation that explains why the application should be considered. School/Entity directors of programmes that are filled to capacity will not consider any applications below 65%.

HUM.9.10.2 Programme outcomes

On completion of this Programme, students should be able to:

- a) Operate professionally and effectively as communication specialists within an increasingly complex and developing environment that demands the analysis, evaluation and reconstruction/recreation/repackaging of selected, practical and theoretical/abstract communications concepts, practices and data;
- b) Identify, analyse and contextualise communication problems within a complex and constantly changing communication environment and to apply the appropriate communication theories and research methodologies to address the problems on both an academic and practical manner;

- Compile and successfully complete a research proposal within six months after registration that complies with the requirements of the institution;
- Do independent research on a specific communication problem by using relevant scientific methods and to document it in a written report.
- e) Present and discuss any aspect of research to co-students by means of colloquia.

HUM.15 DOCTORAL DEGREES

The Faculty of Humanities offers the following Doctoral qualifications:

- HUM.16 Doctor of Music
- HUM.17 Doctor of Philosophy
- HUM.18 Doctor of Philosophy in Languages and Literature
- HUM.19 Doctor of Philosophy in Social Science
- HUM.20 Doctor of Philosophy in Visual and Performing Arts

These qualifications, along with their respective programmes, are detailed under HUM.1.5.4. For specific programme descriptions and the availability of study options (full-time or part-time), students should refer to HUM.1.5.4. While each programme follows its own curriculum, the general rules governing Doctoral degrees apply across all programmes.

HUM.15.1 RULES FOR DOCTORAL DEGREES

A doctorate in the Faculty of Humanities follows a Master's degree or after the status of a Master's degree has been obtained.

HUM.15.1.1 Duration (minimum and maximum duration)

The minimum duration for a Doctoral degree is two years for full-time students and three years for part-time students, while the maximum duration is four years for full-time students and five years for part-time students, in accordance with A-Rule 1.13. The duration is calculated from the year of first registration for the specific programme.

HUM.15.1.2 Admission requirements of the qualification

The admission requirements (A-Rule 1.5) and registration requirements (A-Rule 1.9, A-Rule 5.7) are outlined in A-Rule 5.2. Specific admission criteria for the various doctoral programmes and curricula are provided in the programme-specific rules.

For more detailed information on the technical requirements for the thesis or other research components, students should refer to the Manual for Higher Degree Studies (A-Rule 5.1).

HUM.15.1.3 Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In accordance with A-Rule 1.5.3, applicants may be considered for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) based on relevant formal or experiential learning. RPL can be used for admission or advanced standing into the qualification, with a maximum of 50% of total credits allowed through RPL.

HUM.15.1.4 Assessment and Examination

Doctoral degree assessments are governed by A-Rule 5.16, which outlines the examination and external moderation of doctoral theses. This ensures that all research outputs meet the university's academic standards.

The Faculty follows A-Rule 1.21 on academic integrity, and any instance of academic dishonesty, such as plagiarism, will be addressed through strict disciplinary measures, including the potential revocation of qualifications.

HUM.15.1.5 Articulation

A Doctoral degree represents the highest academic qualification, and there are no formal articulation routes beyond this level. However, graduates may pursue postdoctoral research or professional development opportunities. For further guidance, students should consult the relevant research entities or programme coordinators.

Total credits for the programme: Potchefstroom		360

The programme consists of the following: HUM.16.1.4

The programme consists of two phases, all components of which should be passed. The phases may run concurrently.

- Phase 1 consists of practical or composition work, and candidates must either present two concert programmes or two composition portfolios. These concerts or portfolios serve to hone and assess the candidate's applied skills (including, for example, technical and interpretive skills) in the relevant instrument/voice or composition.
- Phase 2 consists of an artistic research process and product or products. The research proposal on which this phase is based should be completed within 6 months after registration. Phase 2 may be structured in the following ways:

- A thesis (may also consist of two journal articles with an extended a) introduction and conclusion) OR
- Two concert recitals or two composition portfolios AND a formal b) assignment or one journal article OR
- One concert recital and one lecture recital or one composition portfolio C) and one lecture presentation (which should include a live performance of a composition/compositions by the candidate or the playback of a recording thereof) AND a formal assignment or one journal article OR
- Two lecture recitals or two lecture presentations (which should include d) a live performance of a composition/compositions by the candidate or the playback of a recording thereof) AND a formal assignment or one iournal article.
- If option a) is chosen, the creative work in phase 1 and the thesis in • phase 2 should form an integrated whole;
- If options b) to d) are chosen, phase 1 and 2 are treated separately and • only the creative work presented in phase 2 should be integrated with the written work and presented as part of the research product;
- Documentation in the form of, for example, audio/video recordings, concert programmes (including programme notes), lecture notes, composition portfolios, composition scores and presentation materials (whichever may be relevant) should be submitted as evidence along with the written document in both cases, to be assessed as a whole.

HUM.16.1.5 Examination

Examinations are done according to General Rule A.5.4 of the University.

HUM.17 DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

HUM.17.1 PROGRAMME – COMMUNICATION SCIENCES (CODE 1CD R01)

Doctor of Philosophy	y in Communication Sciences
Qualification Code:	1CD R01 L901M/P
Campus:	Mahikeng and Potchefstroom

HUM.17.1.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Doctoral qualifications outlined in HUM.15, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 5.2, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) A candidate must have obtained a Master's degree in the field of study with a minimum average of 65% in which the student intends to enrol. Alternatively, applicants must have the status of such a Master's degree granted on request by the Senate, by attaining a level of competence that, in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the Faculty, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree. An applicant for registration must give evidence of his/her attainments and education and complete such preliminary work as Senate may require, and must satisfy Senate as to the suitability of his/her subject. An evaluation certificate as issued by the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) must be submitted, if a previous qualification was obtained in a foreign country.
- b) In the case where the programme is not yet filled to capacity, and an applicant does not meet the requirement of 65%, but has obtained the degree with an average of 60-64%, an application for consideration to be admitted to this programme could be submitted to the relevant School/Research Director. The application should include a complete academic record and a 1 page motivation that explains why the application should be considered. School/Entity directors of programmes that are filled to capacity will not consider any applications below 65%.
- c) Admission to Programme L901M/P depends on a screening/selection process scheduled for October of the previous year. In November there will be a "paper selection" in order to grant preliminary approval. The student need to successfully present the research proposal in March of the following year to a selection panel in order to be finally admitted to the program. Information with regard to this process, can be obtained from the Director of the Research Focus Area, Social Transformation.

HUM.17.1.2 Programme outcomes

On completion of the program, the candidate should be able to:

- a) Undertake independent research and advanced study under the guidance of a supervisor in a field of communication building on knowledge gained at Master's level.
- b) Present a thesis that constitutes a substantial contribution to the national and international advancement of knowledge and understanding in the field of Communication Studies through original research that meets international standards.

Doctor of Philosophy	/ in Social Science with Peace Studies
Qualification Code:	1CC R17 L901M
Campus:	Mahikeng
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

HUM.19.15.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Doctoral qualifications outlined in HUM.15, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 5.2, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) A candidate must have a Master's degree in International Relations; Political Science or any other related discipline from any University in South Africa and Internationally or an equivalent qualification in a related discipline, with an average of mark 65%.
- b) In the case where the programme is not yet filled to capacity, and an applicant does not meet the requirement of 65%, but has obtained the degree with an average of 60-64%, an application for consideration to be admitted to this programme could be submitted to the relevant School/Research Director. The application should include a complete academic record and a 1-page motivation that explains why the application should be considered. School/Entity directors of programmes that are filled to capacity will not consider any applications below 65%.
- c) Students who fulfil the entry criteria, may initially receive provisional acceptance based on the capacity available. Thereafter, students may be required to go through a further selection process (the preparation of a draft research proposal and colloquium presentation) before the final approval of candidates is made.
- d) Only a limited number of candidates will be accepted onto the programme every year. The number of candidates who will be accepted is subject to the School's policy and capacity. All applications are assessed on strict academic merits and requirements.
- All admitted candidates (provisionally accepted students included) must attend an introductory and orientation meeting on a date determined by the Research Entity.
- f) PhD students are required to submit a research proposal that meets the required standard for title registration, within 6 months of registration. Failure to do so may result in the termination of a student's studies.
- g) Should student be accepted in this programme, a student may not change his/her programme during the Academic year. Should a student wish to change his/her programme, he/she would have to formally cancel his/her studies and re-apply for admission to the programme the following year. Acceptance in this case, is not guaranteed and the application will undergo the normal selection process.

HUM.19.15.2 Programme outcomes

- Demonstrate a depth of knowledge and high levels of theoretical understanding in a complex and specialised area within Peace Studies.
- b) Demonstrate intellectual independence and advanced research skills through the ability to apply sophisticated knowledge and research methodologies to the solution of complex, unfamiliar problems in Peace Studies and the competence to integrate and apply theoretical knowledge and research findings within relevant local and global contexts.

- c) Deal with complexity, lacunae and contradictions in the knowledge base of Peace Studies.
- Autonomously generate, synthesise and evaluate information and concepts at highly abstract levels and make sound evaluations on the basis of independently generated criteria.
- e) Question existing knowledge boundaries and practices in Peace Studies and create responses to problems that expand or redefine existing knowledge.
- f) Show mastery of the literature and state of research in a specific area.
- g) Demonstrate research leadership within a field or across disciplines, including the ability to plan, resource, manage and optimise all aspects of research

HUM.19.16.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Doctoral qualifications outlined in HUM.15, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 5.2, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

A candidate must have obtained an appropriate Master's degree in any a) discipline related to social and human development and/or management in different contexts and/or across multiple levels (individual, familial, societal, policy / programmatic environments), with an average mark of 65% or an equivalent qualification as approved by Senate. In the case where the programme is not yet filled to capacity, and an applicant does not meet the requirement of 65% but has obtained the degree with an average of 60-64%, they will be admitted to this programme after successfully completed relevant supplementary short learning programmes or relevant readings as indicated. The application should include a complete academic record, additional training courses and a one-page motivation that explains why the application should be considered. All applicants for registration must give evidence of their attainments and education and complete such preliminary work as Senate may require, and must satisfy Senate as to the suitability of their subject.

For international applicants, an evaluation certificate issued by the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) must be submitted if a previous qualification was obtained in a foreign country.

- b) Candidates who fulfil the entry criteria may initially receive provisional acceptance based on the capacity available. Thereafter, candidates will be required to go through a further selection process (the preparation of a draft research proposal, selection interviews and successful completion of a short learning programme in research methodology) before the final approval of students is granted.
- c) Only a limited number of students will be accepted onto the programme every year, subject to the Research Entity's policy and capacity. All applications are assessed on strict academic merits and requirements.
- d) All admitted students (including those provisionally accepted) must attend an introductory and orientation meeting; and at least two workshops on topics related to broad theoretical frameworks and interdisciplinary research, at a campus of the NWU on a date determined by the Research Entity.
- e) PhD students are required to submit a research proposal that meets the required standard for title registration, within 6 months of registration. Failure to do so may result in the termination of a student's studies.
- f) Should students be accepted for the PhD, they may not change their Programme during the Academic year. Should students wish to change their Programme, they would have to formally cancel their studies and re-apply for admission to another Programme the following year. Acceptance in this case, is not guaranteed and the application will undergo the normal selection process.

HUM.19.16.2 Programme outcomes

- a) Present a thesis that constitutes original research that meets national and international standards and contribute to the national and international advancement of knowledge and understanding of ageing and its developmental aspects on the individual, familial, intra / intergenerational, communal or broader societal levels from a social sciences perspective within the African context.
- b) Show mastery of the literature and state of research.
- c) Demonstrate a depth of knowledge and high levels of theoretical understanding of the multi-disciplinary field of Gerontology.
- d) Demonstrate intellectual independence and advanced research skills through the ability to apply sophisticated knowledge and research methodologies to the interdisciplinary solution of complex challenges of Ageing Studies in (South) Africa and the competence to integrate and apply theoretical knowledge and research findings within relevant local and global contexts; and to inform policy and practice.
- e) Demonstrate research leadership within a field or across disciplines, including the ability to plan, resource, manage and optimise all aspects of research processes within complex and unpredictable contexts.
- f) Demonstrate high levels of responsibility, self-reflexivity and adaptability concerning the determination of socially relevant issues and research needs in as well as its ethical implications for (South) Africa; also the ability to relate and mainstream these issues to international contexts.

HUM.20 DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN VISUAL AND PERFORMING ARTS

HUM.20.1 PROGRAMME – HISTORY OF ART (CODE 1CE R01)

Doctor of Philosoph of Art	y in Visual and Performing Arts with History
Qualification Code:	1CE R01 L901P
Campus:	Potchefstroom
Delivery mode:	Full-time and part-time

HUM.20.1.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Doctoral qualifications outlined in HUM.15, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 5.2, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) A candidate must have a Master's degree in History of Art or an equivalent qualification obtained with an average mark of 65%.
- b) Where a candidate has completed a degree in a related field he or she may be requested to submit an example of academic writing such as a sholarly article.
- c) In the case where the programme is not yet filled to capacity, and an applicant does not meet the requirement of 65%, but has obtained the required Master's degree with and average of 60-64%, an application for consideration to be admitted to this programme could be submitted to the relevant School/Research Director. The application should include a complete academic record and a one page motivation that explain why the application should be considered. School/Entity directors of programmes that are filled to capacity will not consider any applications below 65%.
- d) Acceptance of candidates for the PhD is subjected to:
 - (i) the availability of expertise in the field, and
 - the capacity of staff to guide the study. The post-graduate committee may, if necessary, request the candidate to write an academic essay to ensure admission.

HUM.20.1.2 Programme outcomes

On completion of the programme, the candidate should demonstrate the following skills:

- The ability to identify a research area within the broad art historical and visual culture milieu with insight gained from the subject methodology, and to describe it within the selected frameworks of a historiographical context;
- b) The ability to contextualise the selected research area by means of art historical analysis and interpretation as well as to contribute extensive new insight and knowledge to the discipline. The candidate should be able to prove that he/she has gained considerable insight about contemporary events in the history of art by contextualising this chosen field of study and motivate it within current and relevant contexts;
- c) In conjunction with the above-mentioned, the candidate should be able to construct a research proposal, to manage the research process competently and independently, to reach justifiable results and to take responsibility for the research outcomes;
- d) The candidate should be able to position her-/himself within the field of study, and in particular, demonstrate that she/he is capable of taking a stand on matters of history of art within a contemporary framework and within a personal worldview. Such positioning presupposes that the candidate should also understand the broader contexts of subdisciplines of the history of art and will be able to contextualise the chosen theme within the subject methodology, philosophy and theory with competence;

e) On completion of a PhD degree, the candidate will have gained advanced and specialised insight and knowledge about the principles, techniques and practices within the chosen field of research. This implies that the candidate will be able to maintain a high ethical and moral value system as an art historian. This should apply to both history of art and to sub-disciplinary sciences; it includes a relevant professional approach and work ethic that will guarantee excellence within the subject field and will show sensitivity to the way art historians assert themselves in a multicultural environment.

Delivery mode:	Full-time

HUM.20.2.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Doctoral qualifications outlined in HUM.15, and the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 5.2, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- A candidate must have passed a Master's degree in music or a degree from another discipline where the research focus incorporated music with a minimum of 65%;
- b) If the previous qualification was a taught Master's degree, the candidate must present the research committee with sufficient proof that they are adequately prepared for the continuation of their studies;
- c) If students should be unable to comply with these requirements for a specific reason, they may obtain permission to present the research committee with acceptable proof that they are sufficiently prepared to continue with their studies.

HUM.20.2.2 Programme outcomes

On completion of the Programme, the candidate should be able to demonstrate:

- An ability to contribute to scholarly debates on theories of knowledge and processes of knowledge production in music research; and make a contribution to the promotion and development of knowledge;
- An ability to apply methods, techniques, processes or systems in, creative and innovative ways appropriate to specialised and complex music research contexts;
- c) An ability to apply specialist knowledge and theory in critically reflexive, creative and novel ways to address complex practical and theoretical music research problems;
- An ability to identify, address and manage emerging music research ethics issues, and to advance processes of ethical decision-making, including monitoring and evaluation of the consequences of these decisions where appropriate;
- An ability to make independent judgements about data in an iterative process of analysis and synthesis, for the development of significant original insights into new complex and abstract ideas, information or issues in music research;
- f) An ability to produce substantial, independent, in-depth and publishable work which meets international standards, is considered to be new or innovative by peers, and makes a significant contribution to the music discipline or practice; and an ability to develop a communication strategy to disseminate music research findings;
- g) An ability to defend research, strategic and policy initiatives and their implementation to specialist and non-specialist audiences using the full resources of an academic and professional or occupational discourse;
- Intellectual independence, research leadership and management of research and research development in a music discipline or practice;
- i) An ability to operate independently and take full responsibility for his or her research.

HUM.20.2.4 Rules for the compilation of programme

With the approval of the relevant entity's research committee and Faculty Executive Committee, a student may present a series of articles that has been submitted for publication to accredited journals, for examination in lieu of a thesis. The thesis must still be presented as a unit, supplemented with an inclusive problem statement, a focused literature analysis and integration and with a synoptic conclusion, and the guidelines of the journals concerned must also be included.

For Programme 1CE R02 the student must within six months after registration in consultation with a possible supervisor present a research proposal and title registration to a body determined by faculty rules for approval, which body formalises the appointment of a supervisor and, where necessary co- or assistant supervisors, in consultation with the directors having an interest therein.

HUM.21 POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA

The Faculty of Humanities offers Postgraduate Diploma qualifications, which are outlined in detail under HUM.1.5.1. Students should refer to this section for comprehensive information on the available programmes, including full-time, part-time, or distance learning options.

Students should refer to the specific programme descriptions in that section for more information on the availability of full-time, part-time, or distance learning options. Although each programme has its own curriculum, the general rules governing Postgraduate Diploma qualifications apply across all programmes.

HUM.21.1 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA

HUM.21.1.1 Duration (minimum and maximum duration)

The minimum duration for a Postgraduate Diploma is one year for full-time study and two years for part-time contact and distance study. The maximum duration is three years for both full-time and part-time contact and distance students, as outlined in A-Rule 1.13. The duration is calculated from the year of first registration for the specific programme.

HUM.21.1.2 Admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general admission requirements set out in A-Rule 1.5, the following specific requirements apply to all Postgraduate Diploma qualifications:

- An Advanced Diploma in a relevant field at NQF Level 7; or
- A Bachelor's degree or equivalent qualification at NQF Level 7.

Specific admission criteria for the individual Postgraduate Diploma programmes are provided in the programme-specific rules.

HUM.21.1.3 Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is governed by A-Rule 1.5.3. RPL may be used to admit students based on formal, informal, or experiential learning. However, credit exemptions are capped at 50% of the total qualification credits, and only 10% of enrolments may be admitted through the RPL route.

HUM.21.1.4 Assessment and Examination

Assessments and examinations for Postgraduate Diploma qualifications are conducted in accordance with A-Rule 3.5, which governs the assessment of postgraduate diplomas and honours degrees. This ensures that all evaluations comply with the university's academic standards.

The Faculty also upholds the principles of academic integrity as detailed in A-Rule 1.21, with strict consequences for academic dishonesty, such as plagiarism or cheating. Disciplinary measures may include revocation of qualifications.

HUM.21.1.5 Articulation

On successful completion of a Postgraduate Diploma, students may qualify for admission to a relevant Master's degree programme, as per A-Rule 1.5.3. Specific articulation pathways for each programme are outlined in the programme-specific rules.

HUM.21.2 RELEVANT ACADEMIC RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA PROGRAMMES

Students enrolled in a Postgraduate Diploma programme must comply with the general academic rules governing registration, progression, performance, assessment, and qualification attainment as outlined in the relevant A-Rules:

Registration:

In line with A-Rule 1.9, students must ensure proper registration, avoiding timetable conflicts and adhering to credit load limits.

Monitoring of Academic Performance and Progression:

A-Rule 1.14 governs the monitoring of academic performance, ensuring that students meet progression requirements. Academic progression is subject to the conditions outlined in A-Rule 1.15, and unsatisfactory performance may lead to academic exclusion as detailed in A-Rule 1.17.

Assessment and Moderation:

Assessments, including external moderation of final results, are conducted in accordance with A-Rule 3.5. External moderation is mandatory for exitlevel modules, and a second examination opportunity is available as per A-Rule 3.5.2 and A-Rule 3.5.3.

Pass Requirements:

The pass requirements for Postgraduate Diplomas are outlined in A-Rule 3.6. A qualification with distinction is conferred when a student achieves a weighted average of 75% across all modules (A-Rule 3.6.2).

Extension of Study Period:

The provisions for extending the study period are governed by A-Rule 1.13, and students requiring additional time must follow the application process outlined in the A-Rules.

HUM.21.3 PROGRAMME – PUBLIC MANAGEMENT (CODE 1BB D01)

Postgraduate Diploma in Public Management
Qualification Code:	1BB D01 L501P	School of Gov. Studies
Campus:	Potchefstroom
Delivery mode:	Distance (only English)

HUM.21.3.1 Specific admission requirements for the programme

In addition to the general rules governing Postgraduate Diplomas outlined in HUM.21, and the general admission requirements set out in the A-Rules, the following specific requirements apply to this programme:

- a) An Advanced Diploma in Public Administration at NQF Level 7 or any other relevant Advanced Diploma at NQF Level 7; or
- b) A Bachelor's degree or similar at NQF Level 7; and
- c) A minimum of 3 years appropriate work experience in the public sector.

It should be noted that the number of candidates accepted into the programme every year is subject to the School's capacity to ensure quality service delivery to all candidates.

HUM.21.3.2 Programme Rationale

The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa (1996) envisages a Public Service that is professional, accountable and development-oriented. The 2030 National Development Plan (NDP) identifies specific steps that need to be taken to promote the values and principles of public administration contained in the Constitution and build an efficient, effective and development oriented public sector as part of a capable and developmental state. The NDP highlights the need for well-run and effectively coordinated state institutions with skilled public officials who are committed to the public good and capable of delivering consistently high-quality services, while prioritising the nation's developmental objectives. In response the Department of Public Service and Administration (DPSA) introduced the Senior Management Service (SMS) Competency Framework as the key in ensuring that the public sector achieves its objective of promoting professionalism, especially at the senior management level. In developing the SMS Competency Framework focus was placed on critical generic competencies which senior managers in the public sector are expected to possess. The NWU Postgraduate Diploma (PGDip) in Public Management was specifically developed with the NDP focus and the requirements of the SMS Competency Framework in mind, and to provide in our country's need for better skilled and more professional public sector managers.

Offering the Postgraduate Diploma in Public Management via distance mode of delivery will ensure that public officials (non-residential students) from various geographical locations in South-Africa can access a postgraduate qualification that is aligned to the SMS Competency Framework for purposes of professional as well as occupational development whilst also attracting students from countries within the Southern African Development Community (SADC).

HUM.21.3.3 Programme purpose

In view of the rationale for the development of the PGDip in Public Management, the primary purpose of this qualification is to develop in public managers a commitment to the public good, and to equip them with appropriate and necessary managerial and leadership skills to ensure the consistent delivery of high-quality services to the people of our country, thereby contributing to the advancement of South Africa as a democratic, developmental state. Not only will students master essential knowledge in different focus areas of the public sector, but they will also develop effective managerial, leadership and problem-solving skills, and learn to analyse and implement policy directives. Such skills are necessary to facilitate the country's transformation by promoting stability at the political-administrative interface while increasing responsiveness of public officials and accountability to citizens. Furthermore, the PGDip aims to develop the ability to do basic research within the sector, effectively work within teams, lead teams in task completion, and to take responsibility for personal and team goals while realising the importance of ethical and professional behaviour in the public sector.

Public Management is seen as an important contributor to the realisation of South Africa as developmental state. The qualification will help providers in higher education to establish appropriate curricula in Public Management related fields. During the design of the Programme, consideration was given to specialisations and career opportunities in the field with specific reference to the SMS Competency Framework. Successful completion of the qualification will further prepare students from the South African public sector for study on Masters' level.

HUM.21.3.4 Articulation

On successful completion of the PGDip in Public Management, students may be admitted to the Master's in Public Administration (MPA) degree.

It should be noted that only in cases where students have completed an undergraduate qualification in Public Administration / Management (NQF 7), as well as this PGDip (NQF 8), may they be admitted to the Master of Arts in Public Management and Governance.

Title: Introduction to Researc	h, Policy and Programme Nex	us

Description of module:

- The principles of the research, policy and programme nexus emphasising: that research policy interactions are non-linear and complex, the need to inform policy processes by research-based evidence, that research-based evidence can contribute to policies and have a dramatic impact on lives, the need for a holistic understanding of the context in which policy entrepreneurs are working.
- The holistic framework of the research, policy and programme nexus, including external influences, political and policy context, evidence, links between research and policy, and skills needed.
- The requirements of a policy orientation and associated skills including policy engagement, a focus on policy issues, translation and interpretation of research findings into policy principles, programme engineering, multi-disciplinary team work, communication, media and messaging skills, networking and partnerships, and intentionality.
- Challenges in bringing the constituent parts of the nexus together: the procedures, techniques and skills that are required, including policy objective formulation; reading and understanding political and policy context; stakeholder analysis; defining the target audience and a theory of behavioural change; strategy development; operationalisation of strategy, developing engagement teams, action and implementation planning; monitoring, evaluation and learning system design and implementation.

Module outcomes:

To introduce the field of study of Research, Policy and Programme Nexus, by outlining the operative principles and conceptual framework for understanding the determining aspects and challenges for structuring the nexus and facilitation of the interrelationships among the constituent parts thereof.

Intended learning outcomes:

At the completion of the course the student will be able to:

nexus;	oply the principles of the rese	arch, policy and programme
 demonstrate and use the framework of the research, policy and programme nexus; holistic and complex set of interactions; recognise the requirements of a policy orientation needed for an individual researcher and a research institution to become an effective entrepreneur; and • describe and explain the approach, actions and skills needed for planning a programme embodying a policy objective.

Title: Research report

Module outcomes:

Module proposed outcomes:

On completion of this module the student:

- demonstrate a comprehensive knowledge of concepts in the related field of study,
- identify the research problem and reflect the correct use of concepts and theories,
- demonstrate a scholarly knowledge and critically question the basic assumptions of the well-known language and literary theories and some scholarly positions on such theories,
- review literature reflecting to the question and develop a framework, and
- demonstrate understanding by applying knowledge from one field to the related field of study.

The student:

- should be able to demonstrate the ability to creatively select, design and apply methods and techniques appropriate to the research project. The information desired by the student is collected using the instrument that has been developed and tested. The collection methods will vary according to the design.
- may observe, question or use interviews or questionnaires. The information collected is not reported in raw form. Most analysis are performed by computer. The results obtained from the information analysis require interpretation to be meaningful.
- locate research in South Africa and African contexts regarding specific problems pertaining to African languages and literature.
- design and implement methods of enquiry to address challenging problems in field of Comparative Africa Languages and Literature as the Higher Education Policy on languages acknowledges South Africa's linguistic diversity and ensures the implementation of the imperatives of transformation, namely 'access' and 'redress'.
- contribute to promotion of ethical standards in specific context and make ethical decisions to promote research groups, community as well as individual.
- demonstrate knowledge and comprehension and also provide a substantive contribution to the process of thinking about language as a dimension of diversity and identity.
- should be able to communicate:
- the research report written in a scholarly manner. The communication of findings should involve the development and dissemination of a research report to appropriate readers. It should be organised, and contain enough information to inform.
- ideas from Comparative African languages and Literature to a wide range of audience and readers that African Languages are capable of functioning in the production of knowledge that can be used in the development of the African continent.

Module outcomes:

On completion of the module, the student should be able to demonstrate:

- the ability to understand and debate the transnational historiography related to demarcated and cross-border regions and local spaces in South Africa;
- an efficiency to engage with integrative multidisciplinary methodologies in research;
- insight in, and a capacity to, identify and collecting scientific knowledge;

 the skill to analyse and interpret historical resources containing information pertaining to the selection of themes or phenomena under study against global influences.

Students have mastered the outcomes if they are able to:

- show competency in engaging with the transnational historiography related to demarcated and cross border regions and local spaces in South Africa on a macro and micro level covering the 17th to the 21st century;
- explore integrative multidisciplinary research methodologies (such as interdisciplinary and trans-disciplinary) in doing regional and local history on a micro and macro level by also uncovering its global impact on South Africa;
- exercise the ability to critically interrogate multiple and diverse sources of knowledge in the research approach (by means of critical reading and analysis according to the historical method) and practice of themes or phenomena related to the histories of regions, while also critically evaluate and review its historiographical development, and the impact of theme/phenomenon specific research methodologies globally;
- have an informed conceptual understanding of what regional and local history is, its positioning and methodology in History, and its integrative nature in demarcated or borderless regions in which a broad variety of contexts and fields as themes or phenomena can apply such as land, race, class; gender; health; wellbeing; environmental pollution; violence; service delivery; heritage; culture and indigenous knowledge systems;
- develop the ability to select, apply and critically judge the effectiveness of implementation of a range of skills, techniques and methods as required in History with a view to explore in research a theme that include quantitative and qualitative research strategies; that consider the importance of research ethics; that follow a regional or local history-specific methodology; that apply the standard methodology in History such as external and internal source criticism; have informed knowledge on integrative multidisciplinary research methodologies and how to consider these in the context of a theme's or phenomenon's history in a macro, micro or borderless setting; and doing history in the digital era and familiarize with the wide variety and availability of sources on regions and local spaces;
- progress to an advanced research level by effectively executing regional or local research on a macro or micro or borderless boundary level related to a theme or phenomenon; report research findings that include methodological, historiographical and theme-/phenomenon specific biographic and historiographic information; to produce critical analysis and conclusions in an acceptable academic format. In the process, the creative pioneering of a unique space-specific bibliography is required.

The student must progress to the ability to:

- critically judge the ethical conduct of self and others within different cultural and social environments, and to effect change in conduct where necessary;
- communicate, in an innovative way, the dimension-specific features of research in regional and local history accurately, coherently, appropriately and creatively, with considerations of integrative methodologies and branch-specific historiography, while also understanding and respect intellectual property conventions, copyright principles and rules on plagiarism;
- operate effectively within a team or manage a team in any given disciplinerelated context and demonstrate logical and critical understanding of the elements relevant in order to respond to a research question(s) under study, monitoring the progress of the team and taking responsibility for task outcomes and application of appropriate resources as obtained from a diverse and integrative context (inclusive of indigenous knowledge systems); and
- comply to self-regulated learning skills such as identifying how integrative methodologies in practice (interdisciplinary and trans-disciplinary) relate to the integrative multidisciplinary method of regional and local History in a research project as practical application and the effective management of critically selecting the application of resources.

Module code: HISS622 Semester 2 NQF Level: 8 Title: Gender history in South Africa

Module outcomes:

On completion of the module, the student should be able to demonstrate:

- an ability to collect scientific knowledge on concepts, methods, theories and trends in gender histories in Africa, against a substantial understanding of the field globally;
- specialist knowledge and understanding of gender history and theory in its variety of forms under masculinity and femininity:
- efficiency in engaging and critiquing masculinity and femininity in diverse multicultural contexts with a strong Southern African emphasis (including contingencies of gender; binary oppositions; discourse; insight into the place and agency of African women inclusive of Afrikaner women in South Africa);
- competence in the skill and practices of History when dealing with sources in aender histories.

Students have mastered the outcomes if they are able to:

- integrated knowledge of and engagement in African women's history and critical understanding and application of the writing of history from below relevant to the study of African history, including gender and decolonialism theory;
- critical understanding of the multifaceted nature of African society and history through the lens of a specific topic relating to pre-colonial, colonial, and/or postcolonial Africa:
- the ability to select, apply and implement a range of appropriate historical perspectives and approaches towards African history with a special emphasis on decolonialism and gender theory to better understand and transform current research in the African historical disciplinary context:
- the ability to select and effectively apply carefully supervised historical methods of enquiry to reflect on and then address complex problems pertaining to African history and contribute to positive change within practice through engaging in a transformative manner with decolonialism and gender theory;
- supervised research skills by selecting a problem relevant to the specific African focus and selecting and implementing historical methodology to effectively execute a planned research report and produce research findings in the form of a formal historical paper.

The student must progress to the ability to:

- the ability to critically judge the ethical conduct of self and others within different cultural and social environments, and to effect change in conduct where necessary:
- accurate, coherent, appropriate and creative presentation and communication of creative, transformative and new historical perspectives on African history to lecturers and peers by displaying an understanding of and respect for intellectual property conventions, copyright principles and rules on plagiarism;
- operate effectively within a team in any given discipline-related context and demonstrate logical and critical understanding of the roles of all persons to collectively integrate and present research on African history, monitoring the progress of the process and taking responsibility for task outcomes and application of appropriate resources; and
- displaying the ability to conduct semi-independent research and effective management of learning resources.

Title: Culture and heritage studies in global contexts

Module outcomes:

On completion of the module, the student should be able to demonstrate:

- advanced knowledge of the cause-effect relationship associated with global migration and human settlement, and the relationship between culture, heritage, archaeology and anthropology, architecture, art, as well as cultural heritage and tourism [This cultural-oriented research in South Africa is conducted with reference to global multi-disciplinary periodisation];
- an ability to engage in the practices of systematic and skilled transdisciplinary teamwork, and demonstrate a logical and critical understanding of the roles of all persons to collectively integrate and present research on global/world history, monitoring the progress of the process and taking responsibility for task outcomes and application of appropriate resources;
- the advanced skills of critical analysis and interpretation of primary source materials, including written documents, as well as oral, artistic and visual materials; and the ability to critically judge the ethical conduct of self and others within different cultural and social environments, and to effect change in conduct where necessary; and
- an applied competence to display the ability to conduct semi-independent research and effective management of learning resources, by writing essays of honours history standard within the basic principles of writing a research report, by displaying an understanding of and respect for intellectual property conventions, copyright principles and rules on plagiarism and the presentation of a visual (PowerPoint) within the framework of the course.

Students have mastered the outcomes if they are able to:

- critically understand and apply theories and methodologies relevant to the cause-effect relationship associated with migration and human settlement, and the relationship between culture, heritage, archaeology, anthropology, architecture, art, as well as cultural heritage and tourism [within set multidisciplinary periodisation];
- operate effectively within a trans-disciplinary team and demonstrate a logical and critical understanding of the roles of all persons to collectively integrate and present research on global/world history, monitoring the progress of the process and taking responsibility for task outcomes and application of appropriate resources;
- select and effectively apply the skills learned at undergraduate level in: the critical analysis and interpretation of primary source materials, including written documents, as well as oral, artistic and visual materials; the ability to critically judge the ethical conduct of self and others within different cultural and social environs, and to effect change in conduct where necessary; and
- to display supervised research skills to conduct semi-independent research and effective management of learning resources, by writing essays of honours history standard within the basic principles of writing a research report, by displaying an understanding of and respect for intellectual property conventions, copyright principles and rules on plagiarism and the presentation of a visual (PowerPoint) within the framework of the course.

- demonstrate an ability to evaluate current processes of knowledge production and to choose an appropriate process of enquiry for the music area of study and practice.
- demonstrate a command of and ability to design, select and apply appropriate and creative research methods, techniques or procedures to complex practical and theoretical problems in music research.
- demonstrate an ability to use a wide range of specialised skills in identifying, conceptualising, designing and implementing methods of enquiry to address complex and challenging problems within a music research field, discipline or practice; and an understanding of the consequences of any solutions or insights generated within a specialised music research context.
- demonstrate an ability to make autonomous ethical decisions that affect knowledge production; also demonstrate an ability to critically contribute to the development of ethical standards in a specific music research context.
- demonstrate an ability to design and implement a strategy for the processing and management of information, in order to conduct a comprehensive review of leading and current music research in an area of specialisation to produce significant insights.
- demonstrate an ability to use the resources of academic and professional discourse to communicate and defend substantial ideas that are the products of music research; and demonstrate advanced and specialised research skills and discourses appropriate to a music field, discipline or practice, to communicate to a range of audiences with different levels of knowledge or expertise.
- demonstrate an ability to develop own learning strategies which sustain independent learning and academic development, and can interact effectively within the music research community as a means of enhancing learning.

Titles: Mini-Dissertation and Concert Programme 3

At the completion of the written work in this module the student will:

- demonstrate specialist knowledge to enable engagement with and critique of current music research or practices; and demonstrate an advanced scholarship or research in a particular music field, discipline or practice.
- demonstrate an ability to evaluate current processes of knowledge production and to choose an appropriate process of enquiry for the music area of study and practice.
- demonstrate a command of and ability to design, select and apply appropriate and creative research methods, techniques or procedures to complex practical and theoretical problems in music research.
- demonstrate an ability to use a wide range of specialised skills in identifying, conceptualising, designing and implementing methods of enquiry to address complex and challenging problems within a music research field, discipline or practice; and an understanding of the consequences of any solutions or insights generated within a specialised music research context.
- demonstrate an ability to make autonomous ethical decisions that affect knowledge production; also demonstrate an ability to critically contribute to the development of ethical standards in a specific music research context.
- demonstrate an ability to design and implement a strategy for the processing and management of information, in order to conduct a comprehensive review of leading and current music research in an area of specialisation to produce significant insights.
- demonstrate an ability to use the resources of academic and professional discourse to communicate and defend substantial ideas that are the products of music research; and demonstrate advanced and specialised research skills and discourses appropriate to a music field, discipline or practice, to communicate to a range of audiences with different levels of knowledge or expertise.
- demonstrate an ability to develop own learning strategies which sustain independent learning and academic development, and can interact effectively within the music research community as a means of enhancing learning.
- demonstrate an ability to operate independently and take full responsibility for his or her own work.

At the completion of the practical component of this module, the student should be able to demonstrate:

- specialist knowledge and technical expertise/mastery in the field of music performance and create interpretative insight in the concert repertoire of the instrument of choice/specialisation;
- an ability to evaluate scholarly debates and choose appropriate theories of performance practices in the field of music performance on the instrument of choice/specialisation;

Title: Dissertation (Comparative African Languages and Literature)
Module outcomes:
· · · · ·	e Aincan Languages and Literat	ure)
Module outcomes:	e candidates should demonstrate
Module outcomes: After completion of the module	 ):

- Develop an in-depth of knowledge and critical understanding of the methodology, theory, literature review, research and intellectual history of Comparative African Languages and Literature.
- Study a range of interventions in the field of Comparative African Languages and Literature, evaluate such interventions and be able to apply such interventions within the professional settings.
- Gain an advanced knowledge of research, data collection, data analysis techniques and the skills in communicating the research findings.
- Demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of concepts in related fields of study and also be able to identify a research problem and reflect the correct use of concepts and theories.
- Demonstrate scholarly knowledge and critically question the basic assumptions of relevant linguistic and literary theories and some scholarly positions on such theories
- Demonstrate knowledge and comprehension of, and also provide a substantive contribution to, the process of thinking about language as a dimension of diversity and identity.
- Demonstrate the ability to creatively select, design and apply appropriate methods and techniques appropriate to the research project.
- Critically apply knowledge and theory to address scholarly arguments and problems pertaining to theories of languages and literature.
- Locate research in the South African and African contexts regarding specific problems pertaining to languages and literature.
- Design and implement methods of enquiry to address challenging problems in the field of Comparative African Languages and Literature as the Higher Education Policy on languages acknowledges South Africa's linguistic diversity and ensures the implementation of the imperatives of transformation, namely 'access' and 'redress'.
- Be able to contribute to the promotion of ethical standards in specific contexts and make ethical decisions to promote research groups, communities as well as individuals.
- Give an account of a scholarly position pertaining to the Language Planning and Language Policy of South Africa.
- Be able to communicate the research report written in a scholarly manner. The communication of findings should involve the development and dissemination of a research report to appropriate readers. It should be organized, and contain enough information to inform, but at the same time it should be succinct. Attention should be given to the writing style, which should be appropriate for prospective readers, whether scientists, linguists or literature scholars. The student should become familiar with the publication policies of journals because the research findings should be publishable.
- Be able to communicate ideas from comparative African Languages and Literature to a wide range of audience and readers that African Languages are capable of functioning in the production of knowledge that can be used in the development of the African continent.
- Demonstrate the ability to work independently on an own research project. Be able to take initiative in leading a team to undertake a research project. Take responsibility and accountability of ensuring good resource management as well as governance practices. Interpretations and arguments should be used by students to give an accurate account of scholarly positions, viewpoints and solutions.

Title: Thesis (History of Art)

Module outcomes:

On completion of the PhD programme in History of Art, the candidate should demonstrate the following skills:

- The ability to identify a research area within the broad art historical and visual culture milieu with insight gained from the subject methodology, and to describe it within the selected frameworks of a historiographical context;
- The ability to contextualise the selected research area by means of art historical analysis and interpretation as well as to contribute extensive new insight and knowledge to the discipline. The candidate should be able to prove that he/she has gained considerable insight about contemporary events in the history of art by contextualising this chosen field of study and motivate it within current and relevant contexts;
- In conjunction with the above-mentioned, the candidate should be able to construct a research proposal, to manage the research process competently and independently, to reach justifiable results and to take responsibility for the research outcomes;
- The candidate should be able to position her-/himself within the field of study, and in particular, demonstrate that she/he is capable of taking a stand on matters of history of art within a contemporary framework and within a personal worldview. Such positioning presupposes that the candidate should also understand the broader contexts of sub-disciplines of the history of art and will be able to contextualise the chosen theme within the subject methodology, philosophy and theory with competence;
- On completion of a PhD degree, the candidate will have gained advanced and specialised insight and knowledge about the principles, techniques and practices within the chosen field of research. This implies that the candidate will be able to maintain a high ethical and moral value system as an art historian. This should apply to both history of art and to sub-disciplinary sciences; it includes a relevant professional approach and work ethic that will guarantee excellence within the subject field and will show sensitivity to the way art historians assert themselves in a multicultural environment.

After completion of the Doctor of Philosophy in Social Science with Social Inclusion and Development, students should be able to:

- Present a completed thesis that constitutes original research that meets national and international standards and contribute to the national and international advancement of knowledge and understanding of social inclusion and its developmental aspects on micro, meso, and/or macro levels of functioning from a social sciences perspective within the African context.
- Demonstrate expertise, mastery of the literature and critical knowledge of metatheoretical and philosophical perspectives on the role of cultural, social, economic, political, and historical aspects in enabling inclusivity within social spheres and the ability to conceptualise new research initiatives and create new knowledge or practice.
- Demonstrate ability to contribute to scholarly debates around theories of knowledge and processes of knowledge production in social inclusion and development and be able to compare, contrast, and evaluate perspectives on social inclusion as derived from different and diverging theoretical perspectives and interpret their applicability for developing models for a fully socially inclusive society.
- Demonstrate intellectual independence and advanced research skills through the ability to apply sophisticated research methodologies and research techniques to the solution of complex, unfamiliar problems associated with barriers to social inclusivity in the Social Sciences and the competence to integrate and apply research findings on best practices for social inclusivity within relevant local and global contexts as well as across disciplines.
- Demonstrate high levels of responsibility, self-reflexivity, and adaptability, concerning the ethical implications of research on social inclusivity, the determination of associated research needs in (South) Africa, and the ability to relate these issues to international contexts.
- Demonstrate research leadership within a field or across disciplines, including the ability to plan, resource, manage and optimise all aspects of research processes within complex and unpredictable contexts to identify best practices and advance a truly Africa-relevant perspective on the development of human capabilities that enable social inclusivity.

Title: Thesis (Corporate Social Transformation)

Module outcomes:

After completing this module, the student should:

- demonstrate a depth of knowledge and high levels of theoretical understanding in a complex and specialised area within CSR;
- demonstrate intellectual independence and advanced research skills through the ability to apply sophisticated knowledge and research methodologies to the solution of complex, unfamiliar problems in the discipline and the competence to integrate and apply theoretical knowledge and research findings within relevant local and global contexts;
- deal with complexity, lacunae and contradictions in the knowledge base of CSR;
- question existing knowledge boundaries and practices in CSR and create responses to problems that expand or redefine existing knowledge; and
- show mastery of the literature and state of research in the discipline.
